

World Culture's Day "Thank You" Quotes

"Thank you for telling us about India. I learned they ride camels"

"Thank you for telling us about India. I learned that there is no snow."

"...It was interesting getting to know more about your country. I hope to see you next year!"

"I hope I could go to the Netherlands some day."

"I was amazed to find out that the Netherlands flag is red, white and blue like the American flag."

"You were very nice and it was fun because we weren't in a circle and said 'montag' and other things."

"I'm part German too and I hope I can visit your country."

"I thought it was cool that you ride around on scooters"

"You were a great person and I will remember you forever."

"Thanks for coming all the way down here just to talk about your country."

"It must be beautiful there. I could get a wonderful picture in my head because of the way you shared your knowledge."

"Your culture is fascinating!"

"I never knew about Sri Lanka and you taught me about it. I might want to come see Sri Lanka some day."

"It must have been hard teaching fifth graders about a place we didn't even know existed."

"...So if I had $50,000 dollars in U.S. American money how much money would that be in Ethiopia? How do you write 12 years old? How do you write 6/2/04? Thank You!"

"Your presentation was the BEST in my mind!"

“You didn’t just come and tell us about boring stuff but you told us interesting things and you made some of the stuff I knew more detailed and exciting. ...I also liked that you brought money and other materials.”

“I used to think of India as hot and full of camels, boy was I proved wrong...”

“You had very interesting facts that made us want to hear more, I felt like I had been to India before.”

“I thought it was amazing that Chinese school kids sat straight up and had their hands behind their backs! (I did it for 2 minutes and my arms burned like heck! Imagine 6 hours!)

“I also liked how you had pictures and things to give us a better understanding. You also knew a lot because you knew the answer to every question we asked.”

“I didn’t know anything that you told us and it was a fun was to learn about Zimbabwe, by having you come and tell us instead of reading out of a book or something.”

“I learned so much like your country’s name means great house of stone. It would be really cool if I could come visit your country and see the waterfall.”

“You also told us that if we do get a snake bite you should tie a cloth very tightly around the spot to keep the venom from spreading around the bloodstream. That’s very useful to know.”